Professional Profile

Mr. Chen Xuyan graduated from the Law School of Zhejiang University and later obtained a Master of Accounting degree from Xiamen University. Mr. Chen holds an interdisciplinary academic background spanning law and finance. He is currently a Partner of Grandway Law Offices. His practice focuses on complex commercial dispute resolution, primarily covering equity disputes, investment and financing valuation adjustment mechanisms (VAM), financial asset management, and corporate governance.

Mr. Chen is well-versed in the logic of commercial transactions, and excels at identifying the commercial substance behind financial data. Throughout his practice, he has represented numerous landmark cases involving claims exceeding RMB 100 million. By integrating precise financial analysis into rigorous legal argumentation, he has successfully recovered substantial economic losses for clients. With his profound understanding of corporate governance structures, Mr. Chen has long provided ongoing compliance advisory services to numerous listed companies, private equity investment institutions, and state-controlled platforms. Adhering to the philosophy of “optimizing transactions from a litigation perspective and mitigating risks through upfront compliance”, he is committed to striking a balance between clients’ commercial interests and legal security amid intricate commercial negotiations.

Boasting outstanding market performance and exceptional client feedback, Mr. Chen has been honored with awards including Recommended Lawyer for The Legal 500 Asia Pacific: China 2026, Nomination for Benchmark Litigation Zhejiang Client Choice Lawyer 2026.
